

Dear Parents/Carers,

FS children have been enjoying a wonderful, creative day of painting today. We believe that pupils learn best when they are finding out for themselves, working collaboratively and are given the time and space to experiment, try new ideas, get things wrong and get things right.

Rudyard Kipling in his famous poem 'If' says: "If you can meet with triumph and disaster and treat those two impostors just the same . . ." – thereby confirming for us that it is our resilience levels during discovery that enable us to learn and move forwards.

Today, we have also enjoyed the Year 2 Fruit Kebab Sale, the Book Stall, and the Parents' Co-operative, while yesterday the Friends of Al Ain International met to think about a variety of activities that we might enjoy together as one community this term – starting with a Bake Sale next Thursday at the end of the school day.

It is so good to have such an involved community helping our school to grow and thrive.

Have a great weekend!

Mr Nourse
